Opera A La Carte

Artist In Residence
Grades K-5

Education Outreach Chair, Jane Haycraft, will serve as Artist-In-Residence for a 1 week at a time to be determined with each collaborating music educator. Ms Haycraft holds a M. Music in Voice from UNC, and has extensive performance and directing experience from Alaska to Virginia. Ms Haycraft is a retired educator (2015), having taught in the elementary classroom, as a high school social studies and choral teacher, as well as an elementary general music teacher in both public and private schools. Schedule Ms Haycraft for a visit to your school so she sees all your students once. Free

The Sleeping Princess

Grades K-2

Ms Haycraft will treat your students to a wonderful experience singing and moving with props, instruments and light costuming, as they explore their singing voices and learn about the operatic style, sing their own "arioso" or create recitative from dialogue.

A Hero's Tale

Grades 3-5

Education Outreach Chair, Jane Haycraft, will collaborate with General Music Teacher or Classroom Teacher for a time to be determined to cast, practice, produce and perform a short musical. Opera Fort Collins will provide sets, costumes, guidance and instruction culminating in a final performance for parents and the public.

The Little Rabbit Who Wanted Red Wings

Grades 1-3

Fee $100

This musical is based on the children's book by Carolyn Sherwyn Bailey first published in 1945. The music, written by Laura Barton, is very easy to sing and memorable. Now out of print, this musical gem is perfect for young voices offering an opportunity for beautiful solo singing, acting and bringing the story to life.

Heroes

Grades 4-8

Fee $100

This is an original script built around Mark Brymers out of print two-part choral musical Heroes. The participants will write their own short explanation of what is a hero, and share it within the context of the musical. Elements of opera including aria, recitative, acting, and movement will be explored.

Together we will create a plan for the production from beginning to end, including promoting, recruiting performers, scheduling rehearsals, planning rehearsals, designating roles for each of us to play in the collaboration, management of participants, parents and communications with one another, administration, staff and school community. We will include 21st Century music expectations and goals from the Colorado State Department of Education.
